Dear Surgeon:

DJO Global recently announced that they have purchased the Biomet Discovery® Elbow System assets from Zimmer Biomet in the United States. As of today, DJO Surgical will own the Discovery® Elbow System products for the U.S. market.

Our priority is to continue to provide outstanding customer service and support through this transition. Both DJO and Zimmer Biomet are committed to you and your patients, and are working together to ensure continued high-quality execution and a seamless transition.

There are no immediate changes that impact you, and there will not be any interruption to your ability to use the Discovery products. There will be a short transition during which Zimmer Biomet will continue to provide support services for the Discovery Elbow products. During this period, certain Zimmer Biomet sales representatives will continue to service cases in conjunction with DJO sales representatives until the products have been fully transitioned. We look forward to introducing you to your new DJO sales representative in the near future.

If you have any questions regarding the transition, please contact:

- General inquires about the transition: Mark Russell, Vice President of Sales (512-832-9500), or DJO Customer Service (800-520-8976)
- Discovery® Elbow System orders: Rob Delp (574-371-1011) or Dean Trippiedi (574-372-3994).

DJO is also announcing the acquisition of the Biomet Colbalt™ bone cement products in the U.S.

We look forward to the opportunity to work with you during the transition. On behalf of our organizations, we would like to take this opportunity to express our appreciation for your business and let you know how much each of our companies values our ongoing relationship with you.

Sincerely,

Stuart Kleopfer
President, Americas
